Stocklick opens in Roma

BEEF producers and industry representatives who travelled from across southern Queensland for the official opening of Stocklick Trading at Roma on the weekend were treated to some great country hospitality.

Owner Bill McGuinness was on hand to help celebrate the official opening and provided live music and plenty of food and drinks for his guests.

Bill, who is based at Mareeba, said the new Roma Stocklick Trading would complement other Stocklick sites at Mt Garnet and Charters Towers.

He said the Roma manager, Adam Brahim, was looking forward to servicing beef producers in the south-west with custom made loose lick mixes, dry licks and grain rations.

"The Roma site employs 12 people now and although it has only just officially opened, it has been three years in the making," he said.

"The company is 10 years old today and we're really excited about this opening at Roma."

The new Stocklick site is located at Lot 2, Kimbler Road, Roma, (opposite the Roma Downs Road on the Carnarvon Highway).

Queensland Country Life's Penelope Arthur dropped in to the opening to catch a few of the guests in action.

Larissa Cottrell, Attika, Augathella, and Larissa Finlay, Roma, rugged up against the cold on Saturday afternoon.

Dean Pringle and Russell Turner travelled from Brisbane to represent Incitec Pivot at the opening.

LEFT: The crowd enjoyed a tour of the facilities before being treated to a barbecue dinner and live entertainment.

RIGHT: Designed and built for safety and functionality, the Stocklick site includes all the latest equipment.

Vikki Hartley, Kinka, Injune, and Julie Ramsey, Toowoomba, braved the cold to enjoy Saturday afternoon out.

John Garner, Incitec Pivot, Brisbane, caught up with Stocklick Trading owner Bill McGuinness, Mareeba.
